BASIC-ABSTRACT:

NOVELTY - A stock information is analyzed to generate historical stock trading information. Two graphical displays such as basic stock information, market marker display are generated for displaying the historical stock trading information.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - An INDEPENDENT CLAIM is included for data presentation and analysis system.

USE - For presenting volume of sales, historical price, historical sales and purchase of stock for analysis of stock's price in stock market trading.

ADVANTAGE - By generating graphical displays in short time intervals and updating the displays on a per second basis, the trader or investor obtains increased understanding of transactions involving the stock so as to gain enough information to formulate an educated analysis of the stock. By displaying the historical stock trading information in the graphical displays along with basic stock information, rapid understanding of the information is facilitated.

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWING(S) - The figure shows a flowchart illustrating the method of presenting data and analyzing for use in stock market trading.
